

Job title

Women's Lacrosse Coach for Oxford University Lacrosse Club

Job description

Oxford University Women's Lacrosse is looking for a passionate, driven and skilled lacrosse coach to train their 1st and 2nd teams for the rest of the current season. Without a heavy time commitment, this role can be easily integrated into other schedules, while still being an incredibly rewarding experience. This is an opportunity to train a BUCS Premier League team of elite athletes, many of whom have international experience.

As a coach, you will plan one or two training sessions per week, focusing on skill development and game preparation. You will discuss the club's goals, team selections and upcoming games with the captains and preferably be available to coach weekly league matches as well as our Varsity Match on 1st March.

Location, pay, hours and term

£30 per hour for 1-4 hours per week depending on availability, until March 2025, subject to renewal next season in October 2025.

- Either or both training sessions at Iffley Road Sports Centre on Fridays 17:00-18:30 and Sundays 18:00-19:30
- Varsity Match on Saturday 1st March in Cambridge
- Where possible, Wednesday afternoon league matches, either at University Parks or away

Responsibilities

- Run one or two 1.5-hour training sessions per week
- Attend matches to run substitutions and team-talks
- Have regular discussions with captains about team selections

How to apply

Notify oulcwomensblues@gmail.com of your interest as soon as possible.